The first paragraph on page 71 should be replaced by the following:

Mary N. Royer (1907-2001) was a respected educator, editor, and influential advocate for Christian education. Born in Ohio, she earned an undergraduate degree at Goshen College (1930), a Master's degree in Education from George Peabody College (1931), and a PhD from Ohio State University (1950). After returning to Goshen College as a faculty member and as dean of women in 1933, Royer spent the next 47 years as a key figure on the college's Education faculty. A tireless advocate for early childhood education, she served on the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education for over a decade, and as the primary curriculum editor at the Mennonite Publishing House from 1936-1964. Upon her retirement in 1979, Goshen College created the Royer Reading Room in her honour, a section of Harold and Wilma Good Library dedicated to the study and promotion of children's literature.
