Dear Booksellers, Librarians, and Friends of the LPG,

Thank you for your on-going support of Canadian independent literature and the publishers that make up the Literary Press Group. I invite you to engage with our lists and discover the wonderful Canadian titles available from the LPG Sales Collective. I think you will be delightfully surprised by the depth and diversity of our lists. And, our titles qualify for the Canada Book Fund's Support for Booksellers funding.

Here are a few updates about our Sales Collective as we head into Winter 2025:

- We are pleased to welcome CMU Press, from Winnipeg, MB to the LPG Sales Collective. As of December 2024, they are distributed by LitDistCo.
- Please note that Bayeux Arts and Rebel Mountain Press are wrapping up their publishing programs before the end of 2024.
- Please note there are no new titles announced for Winter 2025 by the following LitDistCo Publishers: Cloudscape Comics, DC Books, Mansfield Press, Metonymy Press, Quattro Books, or Stonehouse Publishing. Look for their new books in the Spring 2025 catalogue later this year.

Don't forget to check out our UTP Distribution Clients' Winter 2025 Catalogue for more great Canadian literature from members of the LPG Sales Collective. Our Canadian Trade Guide, your key to the full LPG Winter 2025 list, is included in the backmatter for reference.

Happy Reading,

Moonroads

Poems

By (author) Connie T. Braun

Feb 01, 2025 | Paperback, Trade | $24.00 |

A poetry collection full of the betweenwheres of things. Within its four directions/sections, the speaker is storm, a moonroad, the chiaroscuro of light and shadow, and the daughter of a people who have experienced homelessness and who have built houses, and who have made homes migrating from Germany to Russia and Poland to Canada. Between two poles, between sea, river, lake, emotion, light and shadow, the bodies of man and woman, these poems comprise a map of longing and belonging, traveling ancestral roads and moonroads to the present moment, and toward the last compass point of the spiritual wayfarer.

Contributor Bio

MA, MFA, poet, author of non-fiction, instructor of creative writing, Connie Braun has involvements and interests that span arts, education, social justice, and peace, and (more recently) a small vineyard, pursuits that seem a perfect blend. Her publications include the memoir The Steppes are the Colour of Sepia (Ronsdale) and the creative non-fiction book Silentium: And Other Reflections On Memory, Sorrow, Place, and the Sacred (Wipf and Stock). She and Erwin enjoy hiking trips, train travel, exploring wine regions, and spending time with their children and grandchildren. Connie Braun's family immigrated to British Columbia, to the Sumas Prairie, and she was born and raised in Clearbrook, which no longer exists. She lived in Abbotsford before moving to Vancouver and, throughout her life, has spent time in the Okanagan. The places she has called home are located on the traditional ancestral unceded shared territory of the xʷməθkʷəy̓əm (Musqueam), the Skwxwú7mesh (Squamish), and Sel̓ilwítulh (Tsleil-Waututh) Nations; the Sumas First Nation and Matsqui First Nation; and ancestral unceded lands of the Syilx/Okanagan People.

Wearing a Broken Indigene Heart on the Sleeve of Christian Mission

By (author) Carmen Lansdowne

Mar 01, 2025 | Paperback, Trade | $34.00 |

The Indigenous intercultural theology proposed in this groundbreaking work by Dr. Carmen Lansdowne seeks to reframe many of the (often unspoken) assumptions about the field of Christian mission. Ultimately, Dr. Lansdowne searches out answers to the question: If Indigenous hearts are broken by Christianity, what is it in Christian theology that is life giving at all?

Contributor Bio

The Right Rev. Dr. Carmen Lansdowne is the current Moderator of the United Church of Canada, elected in 2022, the first Indigenous woman in that position. Born in Alert Bay, BC, and a member of the Heiltsuk (Háilzaqv) First Nation, she has a history degree from University of Victoria and both Master of Divinity and Master of Theology degrees from Vancouver School of Theology. In 2016, she earned her PhD from Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley. Before her election as moderator, Dr. Lansdowne directed the First United Church Community Ministry Society in Vancouver; she has taught intercultural theology, Indigenous liberation theologies, and global religious traditions in many centres. In 2025 she will take up a position on the faculty of Emmanuel College, University of Toronto.

Lyrik Poetry Series 2

New & Selected Poems of John Weier

By (author) John Weier 🇨🇦, Edited by Nathan Dueck 🇨🇦,

Introduction by Nathan Dueck 🇨🇦

Mar 01, 2025 | Paperback, Trade | $20.00 |

Each volume of the Lyrik Poetry Series will offer a generous selection of some of the best work, past and present, by Canada's foremost Mennonite poets, plus an afterword by the poet and a detailed critical introduction by the editor. These volumes will present a "best of" collection ideal for those who wish an introduction to an influential poet and will be ideal for classroom use. Many of the poems will be reentering the public sphere, as original publications may no longer be available. The Lyrik volumes will present a range of poems from across the poet's career, determined in conversation with the poets themselves.

Contributor Bio

John Weier's poetry books include The Violinmaker's Lament (2002), Stand the Sacred Tree (2004), and Where Calling Birds Gather (2013). Born in Winnipeg in 1949, he currently works as a counselor and mindfulness teacher. He is a serious bird enthusiast, and recently retired from his work as a luthier. He has served as the president of the League of Canadian Poets.

 Edited by Nathan Dueck 🍁

Mar 01, 2025 | Paperback, Trade | $20.00 |

Each volume of the Lyrik Poetry Series will offer a generous selection of some of the best work, past and present, by Canada's foremost Mennonite poets, plus an afterword by the poet and a detailed critical introduction by the editor. These volumes will present a "best of" collection ideal for those who wish an introduction to an influential poet and will also be ideal for classroom use. Many of the poems will be reentering the public sphere, as original publications may no longer be available. The Lyrik volumes will present a range of poems from across the poet's career, arranged within themes which have been determined in conversation with the poets themselves.

Contributor Bio

David Waltner-Toews, born in 1948, has been publishing poetry, fiction, humour, mysteries, and non-fiction for nearly 50 years. His beloved poetic creation Tante Tina was celebrated with her own collection The Complete Tante Tina: Mennonite Blues with Recipes in 2004. He is an epidemiologist and veterinarian, with science titles such as The Origin of Feces (2013), Eat the Beetles! (2017), and On Pandemics (2020). Originally from Manitoba, Dr. Waltner-Toews now lives in Kitchener. Named to the Order of Canada in 2022, in that year he also released a memoir, A Conspiracy of Chickens.
